ART EXHIBITS

Beaufort: The gallery wall at the Carteret County Public Library in Beaufort will feature a new series of paintings by Sally Anger called The Pale Blue Dot. The Pale Blue Dot show is inspired by Carl Sagan's description of the earth as seen from the Voyager 1 space probe from 3.7 billion miles away, just as it was about to leave our Solar System. In it the Earth's apparent size is less than a pixel, our planet appears as a tiny dot against the vastness of space.

Beaufort artist Sally Anger, known for her large paintings of faces, was inspired by this concept to create a series of paintings inspired by our planet. Some of the canvases are round, and have abstracted images of the earth. Others are inspired by the concept of "flow" – the flowing of water, of colors, of ideas, of emotions, of the planets through space and ultimately the flow of life through time. Sally Anger grew up in the coastal town of Beaufort, NC. She left her career as a nutritionist in 2003 to follow her lifelong dream of art and has never looked back. Her work will be on display at the Carteret County library for the month of October, 2017. For more information about the artist, find Sally Anger Artworks @ www.sallyanger.com "What was any art but a mould in which to imprison for a moment the shining elusive element which is life itself - life hurrying past us and running away, too strong to stop, too sweet to lose." ~Willa Cather

Pine Knoll Shores: During the month of October, The Art Gallery of the Bogue Banks Public Library will feature the nighttime photos of our coastal photographer/surfer Doug Waters. When asked what first inspired him to become a photographer, New Bern native Doug Waters would probably say that it was the countless hours he spent as a young boy browsing through classic magazines like Look, Life, and National Geographic. However, it wasn't long after that time, he was bitten by the surfing bug. He'd travel to Atlantic Beach to surf waves at places like Little Africa and Iron Steamer pier with his brothers and friends. As a young adult, his travels took him to Hawaii, where he was able to see and surf some of the best surf as well as watch some the best surf photographers in the world. It was during that time that Doug became interested in surf photography. His first 35mm was the Nikonos water camera. He had started contributing to the surf magazines in the late 70's. He moved to Florida in the early 80's, was hired as a staff photographer at Surfing magazine, and by the mid 90's, a senior staff photographer. In 2009, Doug moved home to New Bern to become full time caregiver for his parents after living in Florida over 30 years. It was during that time that his interests became less about the surfing and more about the many other facets of our natural world. He was inducted into the East Coast Surfing Hall of Fame in the media category in 2010. Many eastern North Carolinians already own an example of Doug's work. A photograph of Doug's close friend and NC professional surfer Buddy Pelletier is used on the NC specialty plate for the Buddy Pelletier Surf Foundation. Doug now resides in Morehead City, enjoying photographing the beauty around us, particularly nature, night sky, and as always, waves.

The display cases will feature the handcrafted jewelry by Pam Valente. Pam Valente creates jewelry in her studios in Beaufort and Little Switzerland, North Carolina. Her pieces incorporate metal etching, enamel, thread work, gemstones, wire work, crystals, and eclectic mediums that capture the essence of coastal and mountain living. Each piece is carefully crafted to be a go to favorite - at home with jeans and T-shirts or skirts and heels. Please plan to join our gallery artists at the public reception on Friday, October 13th from 3:00 – 4:00 PM in the Art Gallery.
