ART EXHIBITS

Beaufort: The Carteret County Public Library in Beaufort is featuring scenes of Beaufort, North Carolina as well as abroad in the rich landscape paintings of local artist, James Murray. A self-taught artist and musician, James gains his inspiration from the beautiful scenes he views during his travels in our area as well as while he is in other countries. His favorite mediums to work with are acrylic and oil. His paintings are often displayed as well as for sale in the downtown Beaufort restaurants. Come by the library to see his gathering of awe-inspiring works depicting familiar local places and unique vantages from all over the world. James may be contacted for purchases and to create commissioned work as well. His paintings will be displayed on the artist's gallery wall of the library in Beaufort throughout the month of September.

Pine Knoll Shores: During September, the Art Gallery of the Bogue Banks Public Library in Pine Knoll Shores will display a collection of posters from previous NC Seafood Festivals. Also, the original painting of the winning poster design for 2017 will be on display during the month. The showcase will feature Melissa Bennett, a writer, artist, and indie filmmaker hailing from Carteret County, North Carolina. Melissa has been creating all kinds of 3-D art since high school, but she most recently fell in love with the art of book folding and 3-D paper crafts, mainly because she's an avid book reader and a big fan of origami. She loves recycling old books and turning them into works of art. She also finds the process relaxing and sees it as a form of meditation. There is no reception is planned for September.
